

Everyone loves the comfort – and taste – of a good Southern meal.

At Lettum Eat!, we believe everyone should have enough food to fill their belly, every day. And our food isn't just delicious; it has heart and soul behind it, too. That's why since 2019, we've distributed hot meals to people in need throughout metro Atlanta at no charge.

I believe so much in this cause that all the profits of my for-profit catering business Certified Southern Catering are poured back into Lettum Eat! – I want to put my money where my mouth is.

We're grateful for a food truck to work out of, and several church partners have even allowed us part-time use of their kitchens. But as we continue to meet people where they are, we need the space and flexibility to serve more and serve better.

Right now, we're on the brink of big things that will allow us to do just that.

The biggest is our in-progress Modular Production Kitchens. We have two trailers that are already being converted into these MPKs, and once completed, they will allow us to store, prepare and share more food than we ever have before.

From cooking classes to food delivery partnerships to extended “food tours” with our food truck and more, these MPKs offer a major step forward in our fight against food insecurity in our community.

Would you consider giving to Lettum Eat! today? Every dollar will help us

- finish the interior work on the two trailers that are in progress,
- begin the third trailer (which we already own), and
- build a deck surrounding each MPK.

Another need? Somewhere to set up these MPKs. (Moving them takes a couple thousand dollars each, every time.) Just one generous landowner who can offer between a half and full acre of land for at least the next five years would be a HUGE help toward our goal!

Here's what one of our partner organizations has to say about working with us:

“Lettum Eat! doesn't make money – it makes smiles. It makes smiles on the faces of coordinators at churches that struggle to make hot meals; it makes a smile on my face when I can count on Chef Hank to fill that need; and most importantly, it puts smiles on the faces of hungry people who receive a hot meal served by a man who always seems to smile.” –Bonnie Selleck, Trinity Table Volunteer Manager

I'm humbly asking that you join me and help provide more hot meals to families in need, this season and beyond. Thank you for your partnership and generosity. Let's LETTUM EAT!

Warmly,

Chef Hank Reid
